

January 2009

At the University of Waterloo we take great pride in welcoming students from across Canada to this year's Canadian Undergraduate Technology Conference (CUTC). This conference helps to shape the leaders of tomorrow, by giving them the chance to interact with the leaders of today.

The CUTC has experience powerful growth and success since its inception ten years ago. It continues to receive overwhelming acclaim from delegates, sponsors, speakers, and the media – all evidence of its positive impact on those involved.

I encourage undergraduate students and organizations across Canada to take part in the CUTC. The organizers have once again demonstrated their dedication and leadership. We are extremely proud of the students and their initiative.

Best wishes for another great event.

Yours sincerely,
